

Here is the introduction and explanation in very simple English, suitable for Std. 6 students.

Introduction of the Poem

The poem “Children are Going to School” is written by Nida Fazli. It describes a beautiful morning scene when children are going to school. The poet shows how nature becomes happy and active at this time. The sun, sky, trees, flowers, and wind welcome the children. The poem tells us that education is important and children are the hope of the future.

Explanation of the Poem

In the beginning of the poem, morning light spreads over the earth. The sky bows its head as a sign of respect. This shows that going to school is a special and important work.

The sun is shown like a human. After bathing in the river, it wears a golden dress and waits by the road. The sun smiles at the children going to school.

Then the poet describes nature. The cool breeze passes through green branches and sings soft songs. Sweet-smelling flowers wake up the quiet roads. Nature seems joyful because children are going to school.

At the corner of the lane, the peepal tree waves its leaves like hands to greet the children. This shows love and care from nature.

The poet says that angels of light have started their journey and every road shines brightly. At this time, every small part of the earth beats like a mother’s heart, showing love and warmth.

At last, time, sitting on an old roof, watches pigeons flying in the sky. Everything looks peaceful and hopeful because children are going to school.

Here is the line-to-line explanation of the first two stanzas of the poem “Children are Going to School”, written in very simple English.

Stanza 1 – Line-to-Line Explanation

Line: Morning light spreads over the earth.

👉 The sunlight of early morning spreads everywhere on the earth.

Line: Once again, the sky bows his head in respect,

👉 The sky looks calm and respectful, as if it is bowing to honor the morning.

Line: For children are going to school.

👉 The sky shows respect because children are going to school, which is an important activity.

Stanza 2 – Line-to-Line Explanation

Line: The Sun, after his morning dip in the river

👉 The sun is described like a person who has bathed in the river in the morning.

Line: Dressed up in his golden muslin turban

👉 The golden rays of the sun look like a soft golden turban.

Line: Waits and smiles on one side of the road,

👉 The sun seems to wait by the road and smile at the children.

Line: For children are going to school.

👉 The sun is happy and welcoming because children are going to school.

If you want, I can continue with the next stanzas in the same simple way 🌻

Here is the line-to-line explanation of the next two stanzas in simple English.

Stanza 3 – Line-to-Line Explanation

Line: Through the green-topped branches,

👉 The wind moves through the green branches of the trees.

Line: Breezes sing their songs of blessings.

👉 The soft wind sounds like it is singing kind and happy songs.

Line: Fragrant flowers awaken the sleepy roads

👉 Sweet-smelling flowers make the quiet roads feel fresh and alive.

Line: With their melodies.

👉 The beauty and smell of flowers feel like sweet music.

Stanza 4 – Line-to-Line Explanation

Line: At the corner of the lane,

👉 At the side of the small road or street,

Line: The Peepal in his lush deep foliage

👉 The Peepal tree has thick green leaves.

Line: Waves his hands

👉 The moving leaves look like the tree is waving its hands.

Line: For children are going to school.

👉 The tree is greeting the children who are going to school.